PROFILE

Established in 2005, the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario (HEQCO) is an agency of the Government of Ontario that brings evidence-based research to the continued improvement of the province's postsecondary education (PSE) system. HEQCO influences the key decisions, practices and policies that will guide Ontario's public postsecondary system to national and international leadership, while providing Ontarians with the greatest opportunities for social mobility and economic success.

HEQCO informs the future of Ontario higher education through evidence-based research; engaging with the world's leading postsecondary research and policy organizations; convening expertise on key issues in Ontario postsecondary education; and mobilizing knowledge clearly, consistently and effectively with all relevant audiences.

Three pressing questions guide HEQCO's research activities:

1. How can we improve access to higher education for groups that are underrepresented?
2. Are Ontario students graduating with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in life and work?
3. How can Ontario provide a high-quality postsecondary education in a period of continued growth and diminishing resources?

CHAIR'S MESSAGE

Since it first became operational in 2007, the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario (HEQCO) has built an impressive base of evidence-based research to inform the future of higher education. In looking back over the 2014/15 fiscal year, it is clear that HEQCO's research priorities have indeed informed and influenced key policy discussions within the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities (MTCU) while solidifying communities of postsecondary practice across the province.

As evidenced in the 2014 MTCU Mandate Letter, HEQCO's focus on access, learning outcomes and system design are well aligned with provincial government priorities, which include improving "the consistency and availability of institution-level and system-level outcome measures" as well the "implementation of a reformed funding model for universities" and increased differentiation in the postsecondary education sector.

Acknowledging the Province of Ontario's leadership in providing broad access to higher education, HEQCO research has identified sociocultural variables that influence decisions about postsecondary education, particularly for under-represented students. Work continues with a new consortia of colleges and universities on examining the programs and strategies that lead to greater postsecondary participation and success of these under-represented populations.

HEQCO is also collaborating with Ontario colleges and universities on the continued development and assessment of learning outcomes and is creating extensive web-based resources that will also benefit postsecondary systems across the country. There is wide consensus on the importance of general learning and cognitive skills, which could also underpin an effective evidence-based credit transfer system. The focus is now on reliable and valid instruments for assessing and measuring these learning outcomes.

HEQCO's research in system design continues to explore opportunities for greater differentiation, outcomes-based funding formulae, methods for assessing regional economic impact and structures for academic quality assurance. A highlight this year was HEQCO's first national examination of postsecondary performance, which considered system outcomes along three dimensions and 34 indicators.

It was a busy year for HEQCO. We had 103 projects underway, 27 of which were initiated in 2014/15, and published 44 reports and 32 blogs. Our fifth annual international conference welcomed an even greater number of educational communities to HEQCO with its focus on apprenticeship and the skilled trades.

We also welcomed new board member Denis Mayer, former associate vice-president of student affairs at Laurentian University. Denis brings a wealth of experience in student affairs, continuing education and online learning – areas of great importance to HEQCO's work. We look forward to working with him and benefiting from his unique perspectives.

As the only organization of its kind, HEQCO is attracting the attention of other provinces that face similar challenges in a period of fiscal constraint, similar calls for improved quality and similar demands for greater accountability. In partnership with government, Ontario's postsecondary institutions and the broader education community, HEQCO continues to inform the future of higher education in Ontario, helping to position the province as an innovator and leader.

This report provides an overview of HEQCO's many activities. We appreciate your continued support in helping to enhance Ontario's postsecondary education system and encourage you to join our mailing list for regular updates on our research, conferences, workshops and publications.

MEETING OUR

GOAL 1:

THE PRIMACY OF INDEPENDENT,

HIGH-QUALITY RESEARCH

GOALS

HEQCO research contributes to the sustainability of Ontario's system

Three key questions guide our research activities:

1. How can we improve access to higher education for groups that are underrepresented?
2. Are Ontario students graduating with the knowledge and skills they need to be successful in life and work?
3. How can Ontario provide a high quality postsecondary education in a period of continued growth and diminishing resources?

The answers to these questions are vital to the future health, quality, reputation and competitiveness of the Ontario postsecondary system. Captured within these questions are HEQCO's research priorities: access, learning outcomes/labour market alignment and system design.

In 2014/15, we had 103 projects underway, of which 27 were initiated in 2014/15 and 76 were initiated in previous fiscal years. We issued ten Requests for Proposals and awarded 27 new contracts. For a complete list of projects underway and Requests for Proposals, see Appendices A and B, respectively.

Access/Retention. Achieving high rates of postsecondary access and attainment is particularly critical for non-traditional and under-represented students and remains a key part of HEQCO's mandate. We have contributed significantly to that agenda by making access-related research a primary focus for much of our history. We continue to address this priority area by examining the state of recruitment and retention of under-represented groups.

In 2014/15, we initiated nine projects on access to i) explore the scope and effectiveness of outreach programs Ontario postsecondary institutions are using to engage and attract these students, ii) evaluate strategies and programs being used to increase retention, and iii) work with a consortium of institutions to amplify and disseminate best practices for increasing access.

Some projects currently underway are:

- “What are Ontario’s Universities Doing to Decrease Underrepresentation?,” from the University of Toronto, will investigate and evaluate the outreach programs universities have developed to decrease under-representation.
- “Ontario PSE Recruitment and Retention of Under-represented Groups,” from the University of Windsor, will examine how Ontario colleges define and identify under-represented groups in order to inform the work of postsecondary institutions looking to improve their recruitment and retention strategies.

Learning outcomes/Labour market alignment. The evidence suggests that a focus on learning outcomes has the potential to modernize teaching and learning across the province. Given the magnitude of the public and private investment in postsecondary education, we should know whether Ontario postsecondary students acquire the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in life and work. Moving forward and responsive to our mandated focus on quality, we will continue to emphasize learning outcomes and the relationship between postsecondary education and the labour market.

Projects will examine such themes as: i) measurement and credentialing of essential employability skills, ii) alignment of critical learning outcomes in K-12 and postsecondary education, iii) evaluation of the effectiveness of work-integrated learning (WIL) practices in Ontario colleges and universities, iv) amplification and dissemination of best practices with a consortium of Ontario postsecondary institutions, v) system-wide measurement of basic cognitive learning outcomes and transferable life skills, and vi) describing the labour market outcomes of graduates. In 2014/15, HEQCO initiated seven projects on learning outcomes and the labour market and put out a call for proposals to expand its Learning Outcomes Assessment Consortium.

Some projects included:

- An employer survey by HEQCO to close out the third part of our study on Canada's so-called "skills gap" and the role of higher education and employers in shaping the country's skilled workforce. The first and second parts of the study were a literature review and a content analysis of 316 entry-level Canadian job ads.
- The current state of student learning outcomes assessment in Canadian colleges and universities, by HEQCO.
- "A Research Project on Sessional, Part-Time, and Partial-Load Faculty at Ontario's Colleges and Universities," from Academica Group, to understand their experiences working in the sector.

System design. In the fulfillment of our mandated focus on accountability, we have produced a series of research publications that explore opportunities for greater differentiation and funding formulae that depart from the historical focus on enrolment. With our annual Canadian higher education performance indicator report as the centerpiece, we will continue to generate research and make tangible recommendations that would allow the Ontario postsecondary system to offer a better education to more students with no additional money. In 2014/15, HEQCO initiated 11 projects on system design and accountability on i) articulating the benefits of an outcome-based funding formula designed for Ontario, ii) the use of sessional and part-time instructors in Ontario's colleges and universities, and iii) best practices for institutional and system design.

Some projects included:

- "How Do Postsecondary Institutions Evaluate Their Economic Impact?: A Review of Principles and Methods," from KPMG LLP.
- "Providing High-Quality Work Integrated Learning Opportunities in Ontario Colleges and Universities: Toolkit Development and Evaluation," from the University of Toronto, will assess the needs of WIL educators and coordinators and will develop a toolkit to optimize student learning and development in WIL programs.
- "The Role of Intermediary Bodies in Enhancing Quality and Sustainability in Higher Education," from David Trick and Associates, to explore the evidence about intermediary bodies through case studies in peer jurisdictions.

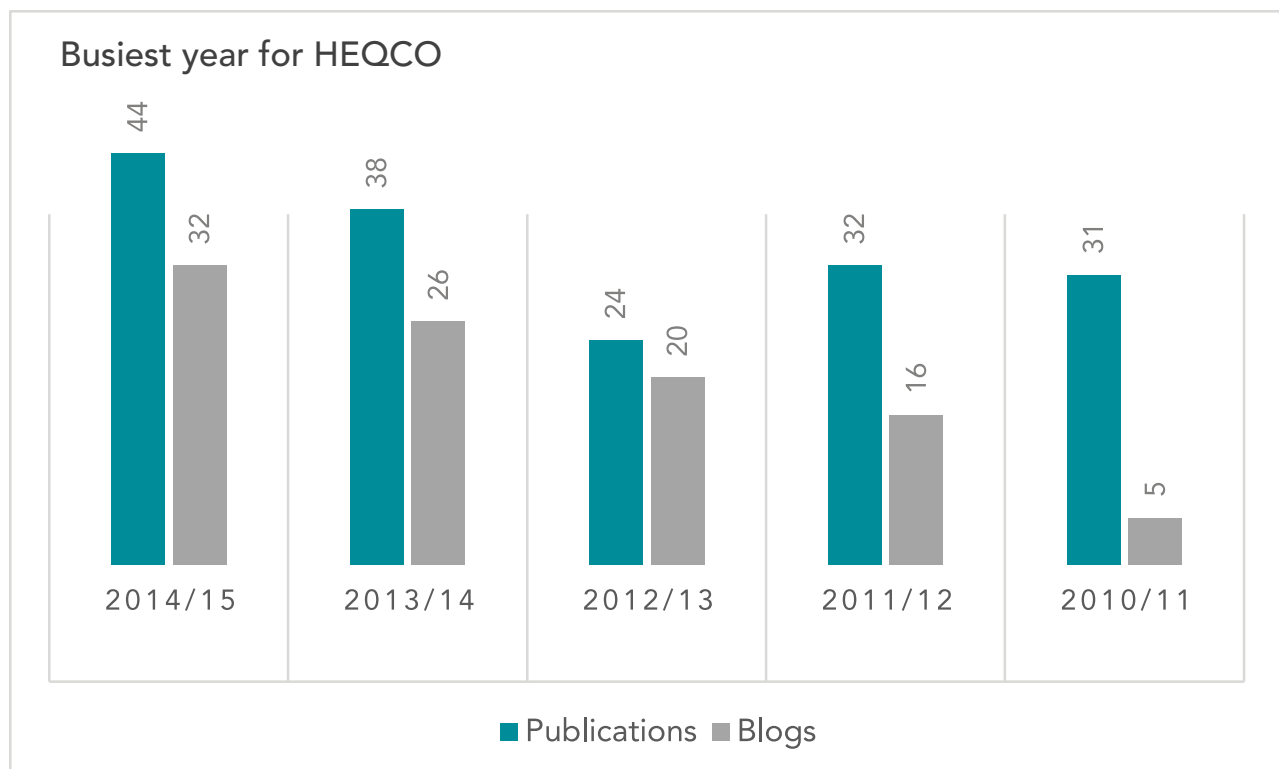

- A project on indicators of institutional differentiation from the perspective of students, by HEQCO, as part of our series on the state of differentiation in the Ontario system. This project will examine socioeconomic background, entering marks, graduation rates and graduate outcomes.

Our commitment is to envision and describe long-term improvements that are foundational, not just incremental and marginal, and that may take up to a decade to implement fully. In our research priorities, we are aligned with the provincial government's mandate for MTCU – to ensure an accessible, high-quality and sustainable postsecondary education system.

HEQCO publishes more research than ever before

It was a busy year for HEQCO. Not only did we have 103 projects underway, we also published 44 reports and 32 blogs, the most publications and blogs in a given year so far.

Some publications of note include:

- “Male students in higher education: we need a conversation,” a blog by Joe Henry from Sheridan College, which discusses the issues and challenges male students are facing on campus.
- Gearing up for its annual conference, “Hands On: Exploring apprenticeship and the skilled trades,” HEQCO published a series of papers on the apprenticeship system in Ontario and beyond. One of those, the @ Issue paper “Apprenticeship in Ontario:

An Exploratory Analysis” provides an overview of the apprenticeship system in Ontario by examining the historical evolution of the province’s apprenticeship model, typical pathways, legislation and the key issues affecting it today. Since 2000, registrations for new apprenticeships have increased nearly every year in Ontario and Canada, but the report finds that completion rates have not kept pace with registrations. Less than half of Ontario’s registered apprentices are completing the requirements of their program within two years of their expected completion date. The report was written by HEQCO researchers Erica Refling and Nicholas Dion.

- “Learning Outcomes Assessment: A Practitioner’s Handbook” is a step-by-step resource to help faculty, staff, academic leaders and educational developers design, review and assess program-level learning outcomes. The handbook explores the theory, principles, reasons for and methods behind developing program-level learning outcomes; emerging developments in assessment; and tips and techniques to build institutional culture, increase faculty involvement and examine curriculum-embedded assessment. It also includes definitions, examples, case studies and recommendations that can be tailored to specific institutional cultures. The report was written by Lori Goff, Michael K. Potter, Eleanor Pierre, Thomas Carey, Amy Gullage, Erika Kustra, Rebecca Lee, Valerie Lopes, Leslie Marshall, Lynn Martin, Jessica Raffoul, Abeer Siddiqui and Greg Van Gastel.

- “Canadian Postsecondary Performance: Impact 2015,” by Harvey P. Weingarten, Martin Hicks, Linda Jonker, Carrie Smith and Hillary Arnold with contributions from HEQCO interns Jeremy Henderson and Emily Michailidis, is a comprehensive analysis of Canadian postsecondary education system outcomes along three dimensions and 34 indicators. The report finds that Ontario and Nova Scotia are top performers overall despite lower per-student operating costs, while other provinces that spend the same or in some cases considerably more money achieve average or below average performance. The report also includes an interactive web tool that allows users to select indicators and focus on outcomes that are most meaningful to their specific province or interests to see how this might recalibrate the results.

For a complete list of reports and blogs we published in 2014/15, see Appendix C.

MEETING OUR

GOAL 2:

SUSTAINED ENGAGEMENT WITH LEADERS

WORLDWIDE IN HIGHER EDUCATION RESEARCH,

POLICY AND PRACTICE

GOALS

Many of Ontario's postsecondary challenges are shared by jurisdictions worldwide. By increasing its partnerships and affiliations with world-leading higher education and research organizations, HEQCO helps Ontario harness the best thinking available on issues relevant to postsecondary education. These global relationships also benefit the many communities of practice that have emerged through our research activities.

HEQCO has developed solid working relationships with MTCU, as well as all 44 Ontario colleges and universities, at both the faculty and administrative level. We have achieved this by working on research issues that have value to the sector, building trust and credibility in our research capacity, and creating an accessible and transparent research and policy agenda.

HEQCO establishes research partnerships

HEQCO established formal research partnerships with the following organizations during the 2014/15 fiscal year:

- Education Research Policy Initiative, labour market outcomes
- Employment and Social Development Canada, learning and skills development
- Ontario College of Trades, development of a resource guide for prospective apprentices
- Ontario Council on Articulation and Transfer, study and application of learning outcomes
- People for Education, defining and measuring educational quality ("Measuring What Matters" project)

HEQCO hosts important events

In 2014/15, we convened eight events on higher education issues. Of those, our fifth annual conference, “Hands on: Exploring apprenticeship and the skilled trades” on November 5-6, 2014, was a huge success. With over 200 leaders in education, government, labour and industry, the event examined the most pressing issues in apprenticeship and the skilled trades, from the skills gap to Germany’s dual-system model, from barriers for women to successful public-private partnerships. Videos, session summaries and other highlights from the conference are available at heqco.ca.

We also initiated a webinar series called “Measuring matters: Assessing learning outcomes in higher education.” In colleges and universities, learning outcomes are quickly becoming the norm in a high-quality, accountable and flexible postsecondary education system. But learning outcomes are only meaningful if they are measurable. This series provides evidence-based best practices for developing effective outcomes assessment programs at institutions and features researchers from HEQCO’s Learning Outcomes Assessment Consortium, as well as guest experts. Our first webinar, “Getting started: Who’s doing what and why you should care,” took place on March 30, 2015 and drew over 400 participants from around the world. Video from the webinar, slides and resources are available at heqco.ca.

HEQCO continues to strengthen our relationships with area organizations and institutions involved in work relevant to our research. In 2014/15, HEQCO continued its “lunch and learn” sessions, where we invite staff to hear from speakers who highlight their work. Over the last five years we have heard from approximately 60 individuals in the educational, civic, business, government and community sectors.

For a complete list of events hosted by HEQCO in 2014/15, see Appendix D.

HEQCO presents at educational conferences worldwide

Presentations by senior executives and staff are increasing steadily, with more than 70 in the last fiscal year. Most speaking engagements took place in Ontario, with some in other parts of Canada and a handful around the world.

For a complete list of events hosted by HEQCO in 2014/15, see Appendix D.

MEETING OUR

GOAL 3:

ACCESSIBLE AND MEANINGFUL

COMMUNICATION

Mailing list, social media following and web traffic saw increase

During the last fiscal year, we had more than 67,000 visits to our website. Our stakeholder mailing list grew from less than 2,400 at this time last year to more than 2,750 now, despite having to lose some names as a result of the recently enacted Federal Anti-Spam legislation. Our social media audience grew nearly 30% in the past year, with approximately 1,800 followers on Twitter.

HEQCO initiates new email strategy

In October, we conducted a survey of our stakeholders to better understand their interests and needs. We received over 350 responses and the message was clear: our stakeholders wanted to hear from us once per week. As a result, we initiated a weekly email strategy using a newsletter style software. The new software allows us to design our emails, add images and track the reach of each email, the locations of our readers, and other important details.

OUTLOOK FOR 2015/16

HEQCO's research priorities remain focused on system design, learning outcomes and access, with growing recognition from other education sectors and jurisdictions of HEQCO's expertise and authority in these areas. For example, the coming fiscal year will include learning outcomes initiatives that embrace the K-12 sector, the Province of New Brunswick and the US-based National Institute for Learning Outcomes Assessment. Our foundational work in differentiation and outcomes-based funding will inform MTCU's review of the postsecondary funding formula and on-going discussions with colleges and universities following on the Strategic Mandate Agreements.

More broadly, through its research and conference planning, HEQCO is exploring transition points through the education continuum, identifying areas of common concern at each stage of the learning process to improve educational access, enhance quality and ensure that Canadians have the knowledge and skills they need for success.

WE ARE HEQCO

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

HEQCO's board of directors is responsible for setting the overall strategic direction of the Council and ensuring that Council activities remain firmly aligned with its mandate. To meet these responsibilities, the board works closely with management to develop and approve the organization's annual business plan and budget. Board members are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council pursuant to the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario Act, 2005.

2014/15 brought a number of changes to HEQCO's board of directors. We said goodbye to two members: Elizabeth Dowdeswell resigned in June to become the Lieutenant Governor, Her Majesty's Representative to Ontario, and Richard Dicerni resigned in September to be named the new Deputy Minister of Executive Council for Alberta Premier Jim Prentice. Cindy Dundon Hazell replaced Her Honour Elizabeth Dowdeswell as interim chair and we welcomed a new member, Denis Mayer, former associate vice president of student affairs at Laurentian University to the board of directors in January.

Board members draw upon their distinguished backgrounds in business, academia and government to guide and support the success of HEQCO's initiatives.

Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. # 1. The organization

Formation and status

The authority to create the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario (the council) was established in the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario Act, 2005 (the Act). The council is a Crown Agency of the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities (MTCU) and is classified as an operational services agency.

The Higher Education Quality Council is a corporation without share capital and is not subject to the Corporations Act or the Corporation Information Act. The council is subject to section 132, subsection 134(1) and section 136 of The Business Corporations Act. As an agent of the Crown, the council is not subject to income tax.

The council is, and exercises its powers only as an agent of the Crown. Limits on the council's ability to undertake certain activities are set out in both the Act and The Memorandum of Understanding between the council and MTCU dated December 6, 2006 and as renewed in The Memorandum of Understanding dated January 9, 2013.

Council operations

The objective of the council is to assist the Minister of Training, Colleges and Universities in improving all aspects of the post-secondary education sector, including improving the quality of education provided in the sector, access to post-secondary education and accountability of post-secondary educational institutions.

The council is governed by a Board of Directors who is appointed by Order-in-Council.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

The financial statements of the Higher Education Quality Council of Ontario are the representations of management prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles established by the Public Sector Accounting Board. No statement of remeasurement gains or losses has been presented as no remeasurement gains or losses have occurred during the year.

Accounting policies followed by the council are as follows:

Accrual basis of accounting

Revenue and expenses are reported on the accrual basis of accounting. The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues in the period in which the transactions or events occurred that give rise to the revenue; expenses are recognized in the period the goods or services are acquired, a legal liability is incurred or transfers are due.

Government transfer payments

The council is funded solely by the Province of Ontario in accordance with budget arrangements established by MTCU. These financial statements reflect agreed funding arrangements approved by the MTCU.

Government transfer payments from the MTCU are recognized in the financial statements in the year in which the payment is authorized and the events giving rise to the transfer occur, performance criteria are met, and reasonable estimates of the amount can be made.

Allocation of expenses

The council engages in providing research, support and advocacy for improvement of all aspects of the post-secondary education sector. The cost of each object includes salaries and benefits, research activities, consulting contracts and other operating expenses that are directly related to providing the services. Salaries and benefits are allocated to governance, research and administration based on the activity to which they relate or benefit. Research related contracts and projects have been allocated to research. Other operating expenses have been charged to governance, research and administration based on head count at year-end.

Deferred contributions

Certain amounts, including transfer payments from the MTCU, are received pursuant to legislation, regulation or agreement and may only be used in the conduct of certain programs or in the completion of specific work. Funding is only recognized as revenue in the fiscal year the related expenses are incurred or services performed.

Any amounts received that are used to fund the acquisition of tangible capital assets are recorded as deferred capital contributions and are recognized over the useful life of the asset reflective of the provision of its services. Deferred capital contributions are amortized into revenue in accordance with the amortization policy applied to the related capital asset recorded.

Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at historical cost. The cost of tangible capital assets contributed is recorded at the estimated fair value on the date of contribution. Where an estimate of fair value cannot be made, the tangible capital asset would be recognized at nominal value.

Maintenance and repair costs are recognized as an expense when incurred. Betterments or improvements that significantly increase or prolong the service life or capacity of a tangible capital asset are capitalized. Computer software licence fees are recognized as an expense when incurred.

Tangible capital assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization. Tangible capital assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives as follows:

- Computer equipment 3 years
- Furniture and equipment 5 years
- Leasehold improvements life of lease

Expenditures for tangible capital assets that are less than $1,000 are expensed as incurred.

The council reviews the carrying amount, amortization and useful lives of its capital assets regularly. If the capital asset no longer has any long-term service potential to the council, the excess of the net carrying amount over any residual value is recognized as an expense in the statement of operations.

Financial assets and liabilities

The council initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value. The council subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost. Changes in fair value are recognized in the statement of operations.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include cash and accounts receivable. Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

Leases, rent expense and deferred lease inducements

Leases are accounted for as operating leases wherein rental payments are initially recorded in the statement of operations and are adjusted to a straight-line basis over the term of the related lease. The difference between the straight-line rent expense and the rental payments, as stipulated under the lease agreement, is included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

Use of estimates

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with Canadian public sector accounting standards requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Estimates relate primarily to accruals for research contracts and amortization of tangible capital assets and related amortization of capital contributions, which are based on the estimated useful lives of the tangible capital assets.

3. Due to the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities

In accordance with the council's Memorandum of Understanding, funding received in excess of expenditures may be required to be repaid and is recorded as due to MTCU.

4. Deferred capital contributions

During the year, the council utilized $58,596 of its MTCU funding (2014 - $19,941) for additional capital asset purchases. The MTCU funds used to purchase these capital assets have been included as part of deferred capital contributions and are to be amortized into revenue on the same basis as the amortization of the purchased assets.

7. Pension agreements

The council makes contributions on behalf of its staff to the Public Service Pension Plan administered by the Ontario Pension Board, which is a multi-employer plan. The plan is a defined benefit plan, which specifies the amount of the retirement benefit to be received by the employees based on the length of service and rates of pay.

The contribution rates in 2014/2015 were 6.40% of the Year's Maximum Pensionable Earnings (YMPE) plus 9.50% on earnings above the YMPE.

Contributions in the amount of $101,355 (2014 - $113,099) are included in expenses in the statement of operations, and $17,063 (2014 - $6,580) is included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

8. Lease obligations and other commitments

The council entered into a lease of 7,670 rentable square feet of office space on the 24th floor of 1 Yonge Street, Toronto, negotiated by the Ontario Realty Corporation, for a term of five years beginning on May 15, 2007. Rentable square feet increased to 7,717 as a result of the landlord's improvements to meet requirements in the council's lease. Rent is payable monthly.

The council renewed the lease for an additional five years commencing May 15, 2012 and expiring on May 14, 2017. The new net rate is $17.00 per square foot ($15.00 per square foot for May 2007 - May 2012). Minimum lease payments under operating leases are as follows:
